SBA loan parameters

- Maximum loan: $5 million (U.S. Small Business Administr...)
- Down payment: Typically 10% equity injection required (First Business Bank)
- Terms: Up to 10 years for acquisitions; 25 years with real estate (First Citizens Bank)

Seller financing terms

- Prevalence: 60-90% of small business sales include seller financing (Certifiedbb)
- Amount: 5-60% of purchase price (Guidant) (commonly 30-60%)
- Interest rate: 6-10% (Advisorlegacy)
- Term: 3-7 years (Fundera) (commonly 4-5 years)

Market size and fragmentation context

The extreme fragmentation explains PE interest—even after a decade of consolidation, the industry remains remarkably unconsolidated.

Factors affecting roofing business valuations

Premium drivers (increase multiple by 1-2x)

- Recurring revenue streams from maintenance contracts (AXIA Advisors)
- Professional management layer with low owner dependency (Brentwood Growth)
- Multiple locations providing geographic diversification (AXIA Advisors)
- W-2 employee workforce versus 1099 contractors (Omnia)
- Technology adoption (CRM, ERP, digital marketing) (Omnia) (Anchor Peabody)
- Commercial focus with documented customer relationships
- 3-5 years clean financials on accrual basis

Discount factors (reduce multiple by 0.5-1.5x)

- High owner dependency (single owner-operator model) (AXIA Advisors) (Brentwood Growth)
- Customer concentration (>15-20% from single client) (AXIA Advisors)
- Storm-dependent business model
- Cash-basis accounting without GAAP financials (Omnia)
- Heavy seasonality without geographic diversification
- High 1099 contractor workforce

Conclusion

This database documents over 100 roofing M&A transactions representing more than $50 billion in cumulative deal value. The data reveals several critical insights for participants in this market. First, valuations have expanded significantly—EBITDA multiples increased 17.3% from 2018-2023 alone, (AXIA Advisors) with premium deals now commanding 8-12x versus the historical 4-6x range. Second, PE platform consolidation is accelerating, with acquisition pace reaching one deal every 48 hours in early 2025. (Roofing Contractor) Third, the market remains extraordinarily fragmented, with even Tecta America's $1.4B revenue representing just 1.7% market share— (AXIA Advisors) suggesting years of consolidation runway ahead.

For sellers, the current environment represents peak valuations and intense buyer competition. For buyers, the remaining 96% of unconsolidated market share means abundant acquisition targets, though competition for quality assets has compressed returns. The Progressive Roofing transaction (9.1x EBITDA) (Roofing Contractor) (Nasdaq) and Roofing Corp of America deal (~10x) establish current market-clearing prices for platform-scale commercial roofing businesses.

Data limitations: Most small business and add-on acquisition terms remain undisclosed. This database prioritizes verified financial data; blank fields indicate information was not publicly available rather than estimated values.
